FACT SHEET- TANZANIA

Background:

The country's name is a combination of the first letters of Tanganyika and Zanzibar, the two states that merged to form Tanzania in 1964

National Flag :

Divided diagonally by a yellow-edged black band from the lower hoist-side corner; the upper triangle (hoist side) is green and the lower triangle is blue; the banner combines colors found on the flags of Tanganyika and Zanzibar; green represents the natural vegetation of the country, gold its rich mineral deposits, black the native Swahili people, and blue the country's many lakes and rivers, as well as the Indian Ocean

Independence:

26 April 1964; Tanganyika became independent on 9 December 1961 (from UK-administered UN trusteeship); Zanzibar became independent on 10 December 1963 (from UK); Tanganyika united with Zanzibar on 26 April 1964 to form the United Republic of Tanganyika and Zanzibar; renamed United Republic of Tanzania on 29 October 1964

Shortly after achieving independence from Britain in the early 1960s, Tanganyika and Zanzibar merged to form the United Republic of Tanzania in 1964. One-party rule ended in 1995 with the first democratic elections held in the country since the 1970s. Zanzibar's semi-autonomous status and popular opposition led to two contentious elections since 1995, which the ruling party won despite international observers' claims of voting irregularities. The formation of a government of national unity between Zanzibar's two leading parties succeeded in minimizing electoral tension in 2010.

Economy

Tanzania is one of the world's poorest economies in terms of per capita income, but has achieved high growth rates based on its vast natural resource wealth and tourism. GDP growth in 2009-15 was an impressive 6-7% per year. Dar es Salaam used fiscal stimulus measures and easier monetary policies to lessen the impact of the global recession. Tanzania has largely completed its transition to a market economy, though the government retains a presence in sectors such as telecommunications, banking, energy, and mining.

The economy depends on agriculture, which accounts for more than one-quarter of GDP, provides 85% of exports, and employs about 80% of the work force; agriculture accounts for 7% of government expenditures. All land in Tanzania is owned by the government, which can lease land for up to 99 years. Proposed reforms to allow for land ownership, particularly foreign land ownership, remain unpopular.

The financial sector in Tanzania has expanded in recent years and foreign-owned banks account for about 48% of the banking industry's total assets. Competition among foreign commercial banks has resulted in significant improvements in the efficiency and quality of financial services, though interest rates are still relatively high, reflecting high fraud risk. Recent banking reforms have helped increase private-sector growth and investment.

The World Bank, the IMF, and bilateral donors have provided funds to rehabilitate Tanzania's aging infrastructure, including rail and port, that provide important trade links for inland countries. In 2013, Tanzania completed the world's largest Millennium Challenge Compact grant, worth $698 million, and, in December 2014, the Millennium Challenge Corporation selected Tanzania for a second Compact.

In late 2014, a highly publicized scandal in the energy sector involving senior Tanzanian officials resulted in international donors freezing nearly $500 million in direct budget support to the government. The Tanzanian shilling weakened in 2015 because of lower gold prices, election-related political risk, and outflows from emerging market currencies generally.

GDP - per capita (PPP):

BILATERAL RELATIONS BETWEEN INDIA AND TANZANIA

Commercial and Economic Relations

India and Tanzania continued to have a vibrant business and commercial relationship. India is a leading trade partner of Tanzania. Major Indian companies and brands operating in Tanzania include Bank of Baroda, Bank of India, Tata International Limited, NMDC, insurance companies (LIC, NIC, United India, etc), Reliance Industries Ltd, Kamal Group of Industries, Bharti Airtel, Escorts, Ashok Leyland, Eicher, Bajaj, TVS, Kirloskar and Godrej. About 36% of medicines and pharma products imported by Tanzania are sourced from India. All major Indian pharma companies have their distributors and representatives here.

India has been one of Tanzania's largest trade partners as per the figures given below

India-Tanzania Trade

[in million US dollars]

Year	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	Jan-Nov 2015
India's exports	895.01	1564.95	880.63	2308.71	2467.14	1320.53
Tanzania's exports	226.19	207.99	480.10	752.17	1293	995.48
Total	1121.2	1772.94	1360.73	3060.88	3760.14	2316.01

[Source: Tanzania Revenue Authority]

According to Department of Commerce data, total bilateral trade with Tanzania was US$3573.63 million during 2014-15, of which exports to Tanzania constituted US$2484.60 million and imports from Tanzania was US$1089.03 million. Significantly, Tanzanian exports to India which were stagnating at around $187 million annually in 2009 have jumped to over $ 1293 million in 2014 according to TRA data.

Tanzania's major imports from India include petroleum products, medicines and pharmaceuticals items, motor vehicles, two and three-wheelers, wires and cables, sugar, electrical machinery/ equipment, yarn, apparel & clothing, articles of iron & steel, plastic products including synthetic polymers, inorganic/organic/agro-chemicals, rubber items including tyres, cotton fabrics, etc. Tanzania's major exports to India include gold, cashew nuts, pulses, timber, spices (mainly cloves), ores and metal scrap, gemstones, tanning/dyeing and coloring materials, non-ferrous metals, essential oils, leather, silver, etc.

India's economic engagement with Tanzania has also increased with a cumulative investment of US$ 2000.04 million [1990-2014] which is supporting employment of over 54,176 persons in 426 projects, as per Tanzanian official sources. India is at third position after the UK and China. Additionally, Indian firms have invested over $ 497 million in EPZs across the country, taking the total investments to about $2497 million. Tanzanian investments in India are a little over US$ 1 million as per DIPP. However, recently a Tanzanian company claims to have invested US$200 million in pulses processing plants set up in Gujarat and Kolkata.

Indian Community

Tanzania has about 50,000 people of Indian origin [referred to as Asians]. They are concentrated in the major urban centres of Dar Es Salaam, Arusha, Dodoma, Morogoro, Zanzibar, Mwanza and Mbeya. The vast majority are from Gujarat, mainly from Kutch and Kathiawad regions. Their ancestors came to this region [Zanzibar and Tanganyika] since early 19th century as merchants, sailors and labour employed in railroad building. The Indian community continues to play an important role in trade and industry. The community has been slowly dwindling in size [from its peak of about 100,000 in the early sixties]. There are about 10000 Indian nationals [expatriates] mostly professionals, who live and work in Tanzania, mainly in industry and services. They represent a broad mix from all over India.

BRIEF REPORT

The two days exhibition in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania was a successful event and the Indian manufacturers were able to showcase their capability as a supplier of steady and sustainable, low cost international quality products to Tanzania. This exhibition turned out to be a platform for meeting potential buyers, dealers and end users of Chemicals, Agrochemicals, Cosmetics and Dyes from Tanzania.

Participants from both the countries were highly satisfied, particularly with the extensive variety of products, services and know-how that were presented at the show. The exhibition survey revealed that maximum visitors were involved in purchasing decisions. All exhibiting companies praised the event for good number of visitors and reported that they had met new contacts in African sector.
